German Admiral Graf Von Snee Reports Encounter on Sunday Evening Off Coronel on Chili Coast—Says That British Cruiser Monmouth Was Sunk and Good Hope, After Explosion Took Fire—Two of German Ships Are Reported Damaged and Rest Escaped

By Bulletin Leased Wire. — On Nov. 2—Admiral Graf Von Spee, commander of the German fleet in Pacific waters, arrived here this morning and made the following report concerning a naval engagement with British warships at sea off Coronel last Sunday morning:

"On Sunday, Nov. 1, between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening, during a heavy rain and rough weather off Coronel, we sighted the British men-of-war Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow and the armored merchant cruiser Oramor.

"The Monmouth was sunk and the Good Hope, after a great explosion on board, took fire. Her subsequent fate is unknown owing to darkness having set in.

The German fleet consists of the Scharnhorst, Nurnberg, Leipzig and Dresden. The British cruiser Glasgow took refuge in the harbor of Coroneel, and is now bottled up. The Glasgow was also reported to have been badly within 6,000 miles of the enemy. They had already been very badly damaged. The Monmouth received a terrible broadside according to the naval officials, and this, combined with the hurricane, soon resulted in her sinking.

The Good Hope succumbed on fire, but shortly afterward a terrific explosion was heard, and her loss is considered certain. The Glasgow escaped to Valparaiso, badly damaged. The Germans declare that the English fought heroically, but that their

Neither the British admiralty list nor any of this year's naval registers contain a British warship of the name of Otranto. There is, however, a British steamer of that name

It is reported that a powerful Anglo-Japanese fleet is on its way to the Pacific waters.

All British steamers in ports in this vicinity are remaining at anchor temporarily as the result of the naval battle which was last reported at Montevideo, Sept. 2. It is possible that the British squadron took over this vessel as a collier or transport and manned her with guns and a crew. She is a vessel of 7,453 tons.

The Bremen mentioned in the official report of Von Spee as having taken part in the naval battle off Coronel, Chile, is a small cruiser of 3,200 tons and is a sister ship of the Leipzig. The Bremen has a speed of 23 knots, a complement of 337 men, and has a main armament of four 10.5 cm. guns.

SAntiago, Chile, Nov. 3.—All hands are reported to have perished when the British cruiser Monmouth took her plunge beneath the sea after thirty minutes of fighting with the Germans off Coronel, according to admirals here.

The German ships arrived in Valparaíso today to take on board coal and provisions. They will leave tomorrow morning, having suffered no mishaps. Only a few of the men on the German cruisers were injured.

The British cruisers Good Hope, Onmouth and Glasgow were under command of Rear Admiral Sir Chris-
